For Librarians: How do I explain how Palace relates to Other Apps

Libraries and patrons have total control over whether they use Palace, another App, or both. Here are some options depending on your situation.

You have Overdrive/Libby and the content is integrated into Palace

There are a range of approaches. It may make sense to start slow (with A or B), before potentially moving towards the middle/Palace side.

A. Libby is Primary App	B. Libby is Primary App	C. Offer Both Apps	D. Offer Both Apps	E. Palace is Primary App
Promote Palace to staff and early adopters.	Offer Palace as an alternative with a different collection; explain that some devices aren't compatible.	Give a short explanation focused on the two different collections; explain that some devices aren't compatible with Palace.	Give a longer explanation of the differences; explain that Palace can access the majority of the Overdrive collection but that some devices aren't compatible.	Offer Libby as an alternative for devices that aren't compatible with Palace, or for people who just prefer Libby.

You have Overdrive/Libby but the content is not integrated into Palace

Libraries whose catalog doesn't offer SIP2 (a way to connect other resources to a catalog for patron logins) aren't able to integrate Overdrive content within Palace. It may make sense to start slow, with "Libby is Primary App."

A. Libby is Primary App	B. Offer Both Apps
Offer Palace as an alternative with a different collection; explain that some devices aren't compatible.	Give an explanation about the two different collections and explain that some devices aren't compatible with Palace.

You also have Hoopla (or another service that doesn't integrate)

Offer both apps, keeping in mind the differing collections; explain that some devices aren't compatible with Palace.

You only have Palace

Offer it to your patrons; explain that some devices aren't compatible.
