

VERMONT DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
ECONOMIC & LABOR MARKET INFORMATION DIVISION RESOURCES GUIDE

The purpose of The Economic & Labor Market Information Division (E&LMI) of the Vermont Department of Labor is to produce and disseminate economic data for the state of Vermont. This resource guide and the “Job Search and Career Resources for Library Staff” webinar were produced by E&LMI with funding from the U.S. Department of Labor’s Employment and Training Administration.

Below, you will find links to all the resources discussed in the webinar. If you have any questions or would like additional information, please contact either:

Vermont Department of Labor Career Resource Centers

The Department maintains twelve career resource centers throughout the state. We encourage anyone seeking work or exploring career opportunities to call for an appointment or walk into a center. The staff at these centers can assist with every aspect of job and career search, from finding open positions to writing resumes and practicing interview skills. They can also share information about training opportunities, apprenticeships and workforce development.
